Dear Hazel:

I received the copies of the Library School Survey results that you sent. When you make your next revision, please include me in the list from the University of Washington. Somehow, since I was presiding, I forgot to fill out a form. I have added the survey to the agenda of the Chapter business meeting in Minneapolis, as you requested.

I found that the final result on the Institute registrations differed somewhat from the preliminary information. We had 30 people attend the Institute, 24 from the Southeastern Chapter and only 6 from non-law libraries in Tennessee and Mississippi. I had hoped to do significantly better than that. As a result, we lost several hundred dollars on the Institute. I will know the exact figure when the books are closed.

Tim Coggins may have told you by now that I was elected Coordinator of the Council of Chapter Presidents for next year. But, thinking about it, I would find it somewhat strange if Tim talked about me when he talked to you, so this may be news to you.

I hope that you enjoyed your visit to Oxford. We certainly enjoyed hosting you.

Best regards,

J. Wesley Cochran, President
